THE
South-Carolina Gazette.
November 21st, 1754. [NUMB. 1066.]

The SPEECH of His Excellency JAMES GLEN, Esq; Governor, in Chief, and Captain-General in and over His Majesty's Province of South-Carolina; delivered to the General Assembly of the said Province, at Charles-Town, on Wednesday the 13th of November, 1754.

Hon. Gentlemen, Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen,

I KNOW no Province in a more happy and flourishing Condition than this; no Enemies interrupt the Peace we enjoy, no Parties discompose the Tranquility that reigns among us; and to crown all, we have the Smiles of Heaven upon our Labour, in constant and plentiful Crops: But, American Affairs are subject to sudden Changes, this Sunshine may be soon obscured; and for some Time past Clouds have been gathering to the Northward that threaten to ruffle the Serenity of our Southern Skies; happy were it for us had they been timely dispersed! but Matters seem to have now gone too far for an Accommodation; if you shall find this to be the Case, I doubt not that you will be of Opinion, that it is necessary to have Recourse to Force, for we cannot be idle unconcerned Spectators, if the Subjects of a Foreign Prince have presumed to make Encroachments on any Part of His Majesty's Dominions on this Continent, tho' not within the Limits of this Province: I agree therefore, we shall lose no Time, in concerting such Measures, with other Provinces, as the common Safety of all the Provinces calls for.

In such a Situation of Affairs, it is a great Comfort to me that I can promise myself the ready Assistance of the Council; I am sensible of the happy Effects of it upon every Occasion: And it gives me particular Pleasure, to see so many Gentlemen of Prudence and Capacity returned by their Countries to the present New General Assembly, the Experience that I have had of former Assemblies forbids me to doubt of the Advice and Assistance of this; but yet, whoever happens to have the Helm in his Hand in such a Conjuncture will find it a critical one. A watchful Eye must be kept upon the French, who at this present Moment are endeavouring to draw our Indians from our Interest. The greatest Attention must be given to these Indians, for, though they be all in Treaty with us, yet they may not always prove so faithful as we have found them for some Years past; and it must be considered, that they consist of many Thousands, all accustomed to the Use of Arms, and all acquainted with every Corner of the Country. But, Gentlemen, let us consider, that the Eyes of all our own Indians, and of most Indian Nations, are at present open to the Behaviour of the British Provinces; if we permit the French to gain Ground, we shall certainly lose the Indians; on the contrary, if we exert ourselves properly, we shall for ever fix their Friendship, and I am perswaded the French will never after choose to measure their Strength with ours, on this Continent.

I know how unnecessary it is, for me to say any Thing to animate you upon this great Occasion. If the Subjects of an absolute Prince can shew such Keenness to enlarge their Master's Territories! What Spirit and Zeal should inspire the Sons of Liberty in the Defence of their's? for, not only our Country, but our Constitution is worth contending for: We enjoy the happiest and most perfect Frame of Government in the World; it is the Envy of all Nations, the Language of all Nations is, Who would not be a Britain? By this Constitution this Colony, from small Beginnings, has, in a short Space of Time, become very considerable, and highly beneficial to Great-Britain: When our Fathers came from thence to settle here, they brought with them the Laws of the Mother-Country as their Birth-right, and a glorious Inheritance they are! They brought with them that inestimable Jewel, the Privilege of enacting Laws for their good Government, without which they could have made no Progress; this Privilege I hope we shall ever possess, in the same pure Manner we do at present, by three distinct Branches of the Legislature. The best Way to do so is, to be sure not to use the greatest Care and Circumspection in passing our Laws; to be cautious not to encroach upon His Majesty's Prerogative and just Rights, who during the Course of His glorious Reign has never invaded the Privilege of the meanest of His Subjects; to pass no Act by which the Trade or Navigation of Great Britain may be affected, nor by which the Inhabitants of this Province may be put upon a more advantageous Footing than His Majesty's Subjects of Great Britain; and in general, to pass no Law of an unusual or extraordinary Nature, without inserting a Clause suspending the Execution thereof 'till His Majesty's Pleasure be known to: ccrning the same.

To His Excellency JAMES GLEN, Esq; Governor in Chief, and Captain-General, in and over His Majesty's Province of South-Carolina, &c. &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of His Majesty's Council, met in General Assembly.

May it please Your Excellency,

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Council of this Province, met in General Assembly, beg Leave to return Your Excellency our hearty Thanks for your Speech yesterday delivered to us.

The Happiness of our Condition at Home, and the Dangers now impending from without, are set by Your Excellency in that striking View as must add Spirit and Vigour to our Consultations. We shall heartily concur and co-operate with Your Excellency in the necessary Means for the Safety of this Province which your Zeal and Experience will suggest. And we shall think it no less our Duty, than it is our Interest, to join in the Defence of any of His Majesty's Possessions on the Continent.

Not only our Country, as Your Excellency observes, but our Constitution, is worth contending for. The King's Prerogative, we are sensible, is an essential Part of that Constitution: We shall ever be careful not to intrench upon it, and then the Bills to be prepared, for Your Excellency's Assent, be not in any Respect liable to just Exception.

By Order of the House,
H. SANDERS DU BOSQUET.

Nov. 14, 1754.

To which ADDRESS His Excellency returned the following ANSWER.

Honorable Gentlemen,

THE Behaviour of the Council of Carolina, has ever been dutiful and loyal: And, as you cannot better shew your Zeal for His Majesty's Service, than by concurring with His Governor, in all Measures for His Majesty's Honour and the Interest of His Province, I acknowledge that you always do so: I thank you for it; I also return you Thanks for this Address.

To His Excellency JAMES GLEN, Esq; Governor in Chief, and Captain-General, in and over His Majesty's Province of South-Carolina.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Commons House of Assembly of the said Province.

May it please Your Excellency,

WE His Majesty's most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects the Commons House of Assembly, return Your Excellency our sincere and hearty Thanks for Your Excellency's Speech delivered to us, at the opening of this Session of a new Assembly. And we beg Leave to congratulate Your Excellency on the present Happiness which the People of this Province so amply enjoy in Liberty, Plenty, and Domestic Peace: These are the Blessings of an indulgent Providence;

JUST IMPORTED in the Mercury, Capt. Strachan, from Leith, a choice assortment of broad cloths and shalloons, with suitable trimmings, durelet and black worsted patterns for breeches, super fine tartin, chambletts, callimanco, worsted damasks, calico gowns, mens, womens, boys and girls worsted and cotton hose, cotton caps, gloves and mitts, white flannel, mens hats, womens & girls worsted damask, callimanco and everlasting shoes, mens single and double channel pumps and fine boots, with a variety of fine hollands, shirting and sheeting linnen, silesias, dowlas, 3 4th and 7 8th garlix, checks, strip'd hollands, bed ticks, osnabrugs, diaper, towelling, 6 4th, 7 4th, 8 4th, 9 4th and 10 4th wide table cloths, &c. fine suits of single and double damask table cloths, fine Scotch thread and handkerchiefs, Lundy's snuff, pigtail tobacco, super fine steel Spring and pistols: To be sold by the subscriber, upon easy terms, at his store next door to Mr. Benoist's lately published by Mr. Charles Stevenson.

X THOMAS ADAM.

WENT adrift from my plantations, some time ago, a cypress canoe about 22 feet long and 3 and a half wide, row with 4 oars, timber'd with live oak, and heart-fashion at her bow head and stern; which I have good reason to suspect was taken up by a negro man call'd Jack, belonging to Mrs. Martha Logan, and by him disposed of: I therefore hereby offer, and promise, a reward of Twenty Pounds currency, to any person or persons who will give such information thereof as the offender may be brought to justice. The said negro was at that time in Mr. Waddsworth's employ, in St. John's parish, whereabout it is likely he may have disposed of the said canoe. John Moore.

N.B. I have a large quantity of good bricks to dispose of and deliver this winter, at my landing 8 miles distant from Charles-Town, at 5 l. per 1000; also very good paving tiles at 4 l. per 100. X

For KINGSTON in JAMAICA,

The Snow America Merchant,

James McGhie Master,

WILL certainly sail the 24th instant, the greatest part of her lading being already engaged. Any person inclined to ship goods, or go passenger, may apply to said master or Mr. George Pemberton. 2

A Bay horse, 13 hands and an half high, with a three nawe his face, two hind feet white, and branded thus 2 on the off shoulder; strayed or swimming in Cooper-River, near Mr. Scott's ferry. The owner may have him, applying to me on Daniel's-Island. Benj. Bartlam.

TO BE SOLD at public vendue, by GLEN, COOPER, & Comp. on Friday the 29th Instant (November) at the plantations where late Mr. Robert Williams now lives: the said plantations formerly belonging to Col. Alexander Parris deceased, containing about 800 acres of land, more or less, distant on Parris's neck in Christ Church parish, said to generally computed to be at the distance of 5 miles from Charles Town. And also one other plantation, containing above 200 acres of land, more or less, fronting and bounding to the westward on the above said tract, formerly belonging to John Wright, Esq; deceased: Which said two plantations are so well known, that they need not to be described or recommended.——At the same time and place, will be sold, Thirteen as fine men slaves as any in the province, among which there are two pretty good carpenters: The rest are excellent sawyers, and very good boatmen.—And also, a large copper STILL containing about 1200 gallons, with the worm and worm tub thereunto belonging. Also, a large iron STILL containing about 120 gallons, proper for distilling oil of turpentine, together with its several appurtenances. Also, a great variety of Cordial Waters in casks, and a large quantity of Oil of Turpentine in bottles. Also, a parcel of neat iron bound casks, some of which contain 300 gallons, very useful to those who retail rum, as that commodity is known (from experience) to improve greatly by being kept in large quantities. Also, a fine large canoe built periauger, that will carry about 55 barrels of Rice; and a good six oar'd canoe both completely fitted. Also a flock of cattle containing about 40 head, most of which are fine milch cows, and have all gone thro' the distemper. And also, some good draught horses; a cart, a plough, a variety of plantation tools, and sundry other articles which it would be too tedious to enumerate in an advertisement. Credit will be given for all sums exceeding Thirty Pounds currency, to the first of March next, the purchaser paying interest from the day of sale, and giving such security as shall be approved of. The property of nothing will be altered until the conditions of the sale be complied with.

AND WHEREAS the copartnership between the proprietors of the distillery is now dissolved, this is therefore to give notice, unto all persons that are indebted to them, by bond, note, or accompt, that they forthwith discharge the same. And likewise to whom the said proprietors are indebted, are desired to bring in their accompts to Mr. Daniel Boyer, at the distillery ware house, immediately, that they may be enabled finally to conclude and settle the affairs of the said copartnership.

IMMEDIATELY after the above sale, a DISTILLERY WARE HOUSE will be opened and kept in Charles Town, by ROBERT WILLIAMS.
